Jaguar Racing has announced a partnership with the world's leading logistics company, DHL, to act as Global Logistics Partner for the new Jaguar I-PACE eTROPHY series.

DHL will organise the logistics and transport all of the Jaguar I-PACE eTROPHY racecars, ABB charging systems, garages, spare parts and technical equipment. DHL has more than 35 years of experience in motorsports logistics, including the job of transporting the freight for the ABB FIA Formula E Championship.

In its inaugural season, the eTROPHY will visit nine cities around the globe. It is the world's first all-electric championship for production-based cars.

Jaguar Racing and DHL jointly developed a multi-modal logistics solution encompassing land, sea and air freight to deliver the Jaguar I-PACE eTROPHY racecars and championship equipment, safely, efficiently and on-time. Through early consultation, DHL was able to help reduce the championship's freight requirements from two aircrafts to one Boeing 747-800 freighter. The two brands are working together to develop innovative and bespoke packaging solutions to minimise freight and thus improve the championship's ecological footprint.
