Monolec High Temperature Oven Chain Lubricant (9965-9966)

Chains and conveyors that operate in high-temperature environments are extremely difficult to lubricate effectively. Synolec Lubricant leaves no deposits to cause chains to bind, jump the sprocket or break, or to cause conveyor rollers to slide or bind. Synolec Lubricant (9963) is a USDA H2 lubricant that can clean off old deposits left by ordinary petroleum lubricants, and its continued use keeps chains, conveyors and bearings operating smoothly. Synolec Lubricant resists rust and oxidation and possesses excellent lubricating qualities to reduce friction and wear.

Typical Applications: Spray or drip lubrication on chains and conveyors under high-temperature conditions. (Do not use where EP lubricant is required.)
