产品详情

Electric test pen: also called electric test pen, referred to as "electric pen". It is an electrician's tool used to test whether there is electricity in the wire. There is a neon bulb in the pen body. If the neon bulb glows during the test, it means that the wire has electricity, or it is the live wire of the passage. The nib and tail of the test pen are made of metal material, and the pen holder is made of insulating material. When using the test pen, be sure to touch the metal part of the end of the test pen with your hand, otherwise
