uv lamp (iodine gallium lamp)

uv lamp (iodine gallium lamp)

application:

the effective range of it ' s optical spectrum is between 350nm and 450nm, centering on 417nm.

it is primarily applied to the filed of photochemistry, such as the printing plate, ink dry, light—curing, polymer aging,exposure of film, printing down of the sensitive materials on the circuit board, such as anti-welding film and liquid resin and so on.

main characteristics and advantages:

high radiance

special spectrum of gallium

high radiant power in the uv and visible range

note:

it should be used with the machable bassast and trigger.

should take gloves on hands when install or uninstall lamp, don ' t touch lamp directly.

should take protective methods to avoid harm on eyes and skin, as the lamp has strong ultraviolet radiation when it works.
