The dry film lubricant is the perfect choice for moving parts that are exposed to the elements are conditions where a traditional lubricant would fail. The unique formula goes on like a liquid, but cures into a dry film that won't wash away or come off on fingers. The lubricant is gray in color to make it easy to see where it has been applied. The unique properties of the formula require heat to cure, so you can work the lubricant as long as needed to get an even coating. Quart-size cans are ideal for a variety of projects.
