产品详情

AtomOil Ultra Synthetic Valve Fluid is a super-slick high-performance lubricant designed for use on freshly machined equipment to eliminate initial damage during assembly and testing. Formulated with a proprietary nano-additive, this lubricant works to form a uniquely adherent film on metal surfaces that resists water, acids, and other contaminants that cause corrosion.

AtomOil Ultra Synthetic Valve Fluid prevents scuffing, scoring, and friction when used on freshly machined equipment. It is designed for use as a preliminary lubricant for valve parts to provide maximum protection during installation. It can also be used by mechanics and technicians to pre-lube bearings, cams, and lifters.
