1. Floating bodies are made of high density synthetic materials, which are anti-corrosive, anti-freezing, anti-oxidation and anti-purple reinforced materials. They are not corroded by seawater, chemicals, chemicals, oil stains and aquatic organisms; they are pollution-free and do not destroy the environment.

2. The upper surface of the buoy body is designed with anti-skid pattern, which is safe and stable. The four corners are arc obtuse angle shape, avoiding common dangers of common cement, wood and iron facilities, such as slipping, being punctured by wood chips, rust nails and so on.

3. High bearing capacity, smooth and durable cylinder, buoyancy per square meter can reach more than 350 kg.
