产品详情

High-strength aluminum alloy heat-resistant cable. high strength, heat resistance, load flow, loss of small, light weight, the temperature at 150 under long-term use, a significant increase in line capacity (Carrying capacity), such as overhead power lines than as ACSR increased by 80%, while its tensile strength than ordinary aluminum wire 50% higher. Is a high-pressure and high pressure transmission and distribution lines ideal large-span New products.
