Precautions:

- 1) We strive to make our customers' lives simpler
- 2) We strive to achieve greater success for our clients, employees, and investors
- 3) We strive to make positive contributions to world development
- 4) We always acknowledge the results achieved

We firmly believe that the achievement of these goals is not only closely related to our interests, but also to all our stakeholders - customers, employees, investors, and the entire planet. We help all parties who establish various relationships with us achieve value-added by providing services and products to customers, cultivating employee talent, and being a long-term reliable investment target in the securities market. We also uphold the slogan of "life responsibility" and contribute to the development of the world and our communities through various corporate social responsibility projects
