Characteristics of HDPE plastic raw materials:

High density polyethylene is a non-toxic, odorless, and odorless white particle with a melting point of 130 and a relative density of 0.946~0.976g/cm³. It has good heat and cold resistance, good chemical stability, high rigidity and toughness, good mechanical strength, dielectric properties, and good resistance to environmental stress cracking.

Application of HDPE plastic raw materials

Arena board (ice hockey board), backpack frame, bulletproof board, bottle cap, chemically resistant pipeline system, coaxial cable inner insulator, food storage container, car fuel tank, steel pipeline corrosion protection, electrical and pipeline box, far-infrared lens, folding chair and table, geomembrane for hydraulic system (canal and bank reinforcement, etc.) and chemical containment, geothermal heat transfer pipeline system, heat-resistant fireworks mortar, safety helmet, hula hoop Natural gas distribution pipeline system
