32208706 - Pt Temperature Sensor for Medium Temperature Range

M series PRTDs are designed for large volume applications where long term stability, interchangeability and accuracy over a large temperature range are vital. The products are typically used in white goods, HVAC, Energy Management, Medical and Industrial equipment. In principle, the products can also be used in automotive applications, in this case YAGEO will check upon the request of the customer, whether additional requirements can be met (e.g. IMDS, P).
