The special alloy plate is thin, which greatly reduces the corrosion, vulcanization and water loss of the plate ring, and prolongs the battery life by 15-20%

The advanced plate curing process of the crystal mirror is the key to prolong the service life of the battery, ensuring the stability of the plate structure and the rich and solid attachment of the plate barrel.

The connected screw phase can effectively prevent the acid overflow of the battery in the moving process, and the connecting structure can remove three nuts at the same time to play a more efficient role in operation

"The industry's thickest electrode plate is adopted to ensure longer service life of the battery, more electrolyte, shorter and more shaped electrode plate saves more electrolyte, prolongs the cycle of adding water to the battery, and convenient handle: installation and replacement are more convenient, easy and safe
