product description :

heatup is a new type of functional fiber that combines features of both special synthetic viscose and extra-low denier anti-pilling acrylic made in japan.

thermal retention:

the static air remained in interior layer of the fiber brings a perfect heat conservation effect and allows the fabric to be lighter in weight.

heat generation:

excellent moisture absorbing properties converting the moisture,which is caused by the skin breath,into heat.

moisture management:

capillarity brought by small grooves in fiber surface,coupled with special spinning techniques,enables extra moisture to be absorbed and vaporized,leaving your body dry and comfortable.

excellent anti-pilling effect:

better anti-pilling feature than other fabrics improved by special spinning technology.

softness:

the many breathable slits like in the natural fiber bring an excellent soft and comfortable hand feel.
