产品详情

Welcome to the official website of Yunshan Luolong Sports Equipment Sales Co., Ltd. In this article, we will introduce our latest product - the 400-meter obstacle facility for psychological expansion training and outdoor physical fitness combination training equipment.

Product Overview

Our 400-meter obstacle facility is a versatile training equipment designed for both psychological behavior training and outdoor physical fitness combination training. It is perfect for individuals or groups who want to enhance their mental resilience, physical strength, and teamwork skills.

Key Features Heartbeats will race as individuals face various challenges across the 400-meter obstacle facility, testing their agility, perseverance, and problem-solving abilities. The facility is equipped with a wide range of outdoor physical fitness combination training equipment, including climbing walls, balance beams, cargo nets, and more, to cater to different training needs. The dimensions of the psychological behavior training area are carefully designed to provide an optimal training environment, promoting concentration and focus for participants. With the obstacle course spread across the area, individuals or teams can compete against time or challenge themselves to complete specific tasks. Constructed with high-quality materials, our 400-meter obstacle facility is built to withstand rigorous use and maintain its durability over time. As a brand, Luolong is committed to providing top-notch sports equipment that meets the highest standards of quality and safety. Rest assured, our product has undergone comprehensive testing and has achieved outstanding results in terms of safety and performance. A detailed inspection report is available for your reference.
