“ Linking the process with the control room ” is what Soldo Controls devices are required to do since the establishment of the Company back in June 1996. With our two manufacturing plants in Orio al Serio, Bergamo, Italy and Winston-Salem, North Carolina USA, we support our international customers with the best-in-class position feedback devices suitable for diverse industries, from industrial processes to the water treatment, food and beverage, chemical, petrochemical and oil and gas markets.

Recently Soldo Controls and M&M International, went through a merge, creating a new entity into the Instrumentation market: Rotork Instruments Italy is now the instrumentation one stop shop you were looking at.

Our commercial network includes sales offices in Europe, North America, Latin America, India, China and Singapore thus providing local support to manage all of our customers' needs.

Rotork Instruments Italy headquarters in Oriol Serio is also the R&D centre supporting our Sales Network with the design of new products that match and anticipate the market needs. A well-equipped internal R&D laboratory is available for performing the validation and testing of new products guaranteeing that they comply with the highest technical standards and Industry approvals.

At Rotork Instruments Italy we understand how much our products influence the ability of end users to control their processes and our quality systems guarantee that our products are 100% inspected before shipment.

We are passionate about our products and our Company and we believe this is the key driver for succeeding in serving our customers with the technical solutions they are looking for.

限位开关（阀门回讯器）是自控系统阀门位置显示和信号反馈的一种现场仪表，用以将阀门的开启或关闭位置以开关的量（触点）的信号输出，被程控接受或计算机访样，确认后执行下一程序。该产品外观美观、质量可靠、性能稳定、免维护等特点。
