About Ningbo

Ningbo is located at the middle part of China's eastern coastline and southern flank of the economically developed Yangtze River Delta, bordering on Shanghai and Hangzhou. Ningbo is one of the cities opening up to the outside world, an independently-planning-city enjoying the same rights as those of a provincial government in economic and trade administration and management, “ a large city ” entitled to formulate local laws and regulations, and a famous historic city with rich cultural heritages. It covers an area of 9,365 km and has a population of more than 10 million.

宁波对外经贸

宁波历史悠久，是有7000年文明史的河姆渡文化的发祥地，早在公元七世纪就已成为中国三大对外贸易口岸之一。宁波舟山港目前是中国重要的港口之一。2018年，宁波舟山港口货物吞吐量达10亿吨，名列一。2018年外贸进出口超过1000亿美元，与世界211国家（地区）有贸易往来。

About Foreign Economy and Trade

Ningbo boasts a long history. It is the birthplace of the "Neolithic He mudu Culture" dating back more than 7,000 years. Ningbo became one of the three ports for foreign trade in China as early as the 7th century. Nowadays, Ningbo-zhoushan port has become one of the most important ports in China. In 2018, Ningbo-zhoushan port topped worldwide in the light of its cargo throughput reaching 1000 million tons. Ningbo had trade with 211 countries and regions all around the world with the import and export trade volume exceeding USD 100 billion for the year 2018.
