marine cylinder oil 5070

sinopec marine cylinder oil 5070 is prepared from a highly refined paraffin-base mineral base stock blending with selected super performance additives. the product is approved by man b&w through a 6,000hrs field test. this unique formulation has been specifically developed for engines burning residual fuel oils with sulfur content between 1.5% and 3.5%.

advantages:

excellent capability to neutralize acid outgrowths producing in combusting of poor fuels, protecting engine from acid corrosion.

excellent anti-wear performance to reduce the friction and wear-off of metallic components and extend the life of engine parts.

outstanding detergency and dispersancy to prevent carbon deposit at cylinder ring groove and cylinder liner and ensure the cleanness of engine combustion chamber.

exceptional diffusivity performance to drive oil quickly reaching and spreading out over the steel surface to form oil films to reduced liner and ring wear-off.

recommended application:

the best choice cylinder oil for marine low speed, cross-head diesel engines using residual oil with sulfur content between 1.5% and 3.5%.
