The guide car is equipped with very complicated and ingenious machinery. In the center of it is a big flat wheel, on which the wooden man stands. On both sides of the big flat wheel, there are also many small gears.

If the car turns to the left, the right wheel will drive the small gear, and then the small gear will drive the big flat wheel, so that the big flat wheel turns to the right in the opposite direction. Thus, the wooden man's arm always points to the south.
