【其他介绍】

In 1962, Dr. Felix zandman raised money from his cousin Alfred P. slaner to start Vishay. The name of the company is taken from Dr. zandman's ancestral village in Lithuania to commemorate the family members who died in the war. The company's early products include foil resistor and foil resistance strain gauge. In 1985, the company has grown into a global leading manufacturer of the above products and started a series of strategic acquisitions, becoming an electronic component manufacturer with a wide range of products. Today, Vishay is one of the world's largest manufacturers of discrete semiconductor devices and passive electronic components.
